Tateyama Kurobe Alpine Route

Tateyama Town
E-3 - G-4

This is one of the best alpine sightseeing routes in the world, running through 3,000 m-high mountains of the Japan Northern Alps. Regular vehicles are not permitted to enter this area; you will enjoy the ride on six different types of transport. Enjoy magnificent views of nature above the clouds in an unparalleled experience that can be had only here.

① National Scenic Beauty Natural Monument

Shomyo Falls

Shomyo Town
E-3

These are the tallest falls (350 m) in Japan. During the snowmelt season, the falls combine with Hannoki Falls on the right to form a V shape.

② Bijodaira

Bijodaira Town
E-3

See primeval forests of 200- to 300-year-old Japanese beech trees and over 1,000-year-old giant Japanese cedar trees with circumferences of over six meters at the base.

③ Midagahara

Midagahara Town
E-3

This is an internationally valued wetland spread out over an area of 80,000 km<sup>2</sup> at an altitude of 1,930 m. It offers beautiful views of alpine plants, seas of clouds and autumn leaves. You can enjoy trekking in Mother Nature.

⑤ Daikanbo

Daikanbo Town
F-3

Enjoy splendid mountain views from the observation deck located at an altitude of 2,300 m.

⑥ Kurobedaira

Kurobedaira Town
F-3

100 species of alpine plants grow here throughout this area. July is the best season to enjoy the views.

⑦ Lake Kurobe

Lake Kurobe Town
F-4

There is a promenade around the lake. It's flat so everyone can enjoy walking along it easily. We also recommend the excursion boat that sails around the lake.

④ Murodo

Murodo Town
F-4

This is the highest spot along the Tateyama Kurobe Alpine Route, located at 2,450 m. It is the main tourist spot along the route. Enjoy hiking and mountain climbing while taking in the surrounding nature.

F-3

A photograph of a tunnel under construction. The perspective is from the end of a set of tracks that recede into the distance. The tunnel walls are rough and uneven, with some structural elements visible. Bright lights are mounted on the walls, illuminating the scene. On the right side, there is a large piece of heavy machinery, possibly a conveyor system or a support structure. The overall atmosphere is industrial and somewhat dimly lit, with the primary light sources being the artificial lights on the walls.

Food

Toyama Bay, with a depth of over 1,000 m, is referred to as a natural fish tank. Nutritious snowmelt runs down from the 3,000 m-high Tateyama Mountain Range, making the bay an ideal place for various kinds of fish to live. Also, its fishing areas are close to towns so fish are distributed fresh and can be eaten on the day of the catch.

Toyama Bay is blessed with a variety of seafood throughout the year. At sushi bars in Toyama, you can enjoy deliciously fresh first-rate sushi made from seasonal fish caught from Toyama Bay.

One of the best winter tastes from Toyama Bay. In particular, the “Himi Kan Buri” (Himi winter yellowtail), with its firm yet fatty flesh, is a famous high-grade fish.

This is a luxurious way of enjoying the taste of yellowtail by removing an adequate amount of fat.

Firefly squid from Toyama Bay are plump and their firm meat and rich innards are delectable. Firefly squid spoil quickly and can rarely be eaten raw, so please take the opportunity to enjoy firefly squid sashimi in Toyama.

Observe firefly squid fishing from a sightseeing boat and enjoy a fantastic view of firefly squid emitting their mysterious light.

*Reservation required.
*Tour start and end dates differ each year.

This beautiful transparent pink shrimp is known as the Jewel of Toyama Bay. Toyama Bay is the only place that produces a large enough amount of glass shrimp for trade. As sashimi, they possess a soft texture and they are also delicious and crunchy when deep-fried.

Red snow crabs from Toyama Bay are soft and juicy with a refined sweetness. In the Shinminato fishing port, you can enjoy the rare opportunity of seeing a daytime auction.

*Reservation required. (Closed at times)

This ramen has black salty soup and began as a dish to help replenish sodium for manual laborers who would sweat heavily. It's pitch black, but tastes different depending on the restaurant. Some are as salty as they look and others are not.

Toyama rice is known for its excellent quality due to being grown with snowmelt from the Japanese Northern Alps and fertile soil at an appropriate temperature.

This rice has great flavor, umami and sweetness. It doesn't become hard and keeps its taste over time, so it's great for rice balls and sushi.

Trout pickled with salt and vinegared rice, pressed into sushi. Enjoy the different tasting products sold by each shop.

Fish and other seafood are sandwiched between sheets of kelp and left for some time so the kelp taste is absorbed into the ingredients. White fish in particular go well with the kelp's taste, making it a very popular product.
